Re: Silver VW Jetta fuel door (silver)

Thank you for what to you may have been a very easy replacement fuel door paint job. The paint match and clear coat was impeccable. Dealing with customers myself on a daily basis I appreciate when a customer takes the time out of his day to acknowledge a good job. Often times customers only speak up to voice their displeasure of a situation or service. On that note I felt that your superb service and attention to detail on such a small job was noteworthy. Kudos to you and to Colorado Auto Body for having such great customer service and craftsmanship.

Thanks

If possible let me know which paint code out of the ten available was used was so I can make note for future reference should I ever need to have paint done it would save your painter some time.

Thanks
